OCTOBER MEETING MINUTES

October's meeting saw 25 members and 1 guest in attendance. Joe welcomed those in attendance and he gave a short report on the status of the CNA Convention Committee. The main item was the Convention Inn has been confirmed as the host Hotel. Final details are being worked out but the main objective of no meeting space costs have been achieved. Our guest speaker was Ray Neiman, who gave an interesting talk and display on Medallion collectibles. As most of these items have been minted by Mints such as the Pobjoy and Wellings Mints (later bought by the Franklin Mint), there initial costs are usually quite high and many are overproduced. The secondary market sees a much cheaper price for these items, although most are well struck and of interesting topics. One set shown was by the Wellings Mint, of a set entitled the Scarlet Horseman on the RCMP. The set was issued in 1973 and consisted of 48 pcs each in bronze & silver. An RCAF set in bronze was also shown as well as Banks of the World. This set consisted of 50 pieces in silver and bronze with 1000 grains of silver in each piece. A medallion history of Canada was produced ... 2 in 2 volumes of 100 pcs in bronze. A 150 piece set of The Great Explorers of Canada in sterling silver was also shown. Sets with medals and first day covers were also issued. A contemporary restrike of the Kings of England set, minted in the 1820's or 30's was also shown. The set consisted of 40 pieces in pewter. Several questions were asked of Ray who received alot of these types of items in his store. Ray was thanked for his presentation then went on to his next job of conduction the auction. A recap of the prices realized is included in this newsletter. The meeting concluded with an interesting ANA video on "Banknote Curiosities". The attendance door prize draw of a 1990 US silver dollar was won by Jules Rach.

COIN WEEK CANADA IN EDMONTON

A brave and hardy lot of a few members managed to put together a display at West Edmonton Mall on Saturday October 26th. The Display of Ancients, Paper Money and Canadian Decimal coinage was put together by Terry Cheesman, Dan Gosling, John Callaghan and Mike Schneider. Mike's daughter Alana was also along to help with the setup and manning the table. The display was set up in front of West Edmonton Coin & Stamp, who's owner is a member of the Club, Mr. Jack Jensen. Jack was kind enough to arrange the $2,000,000 liability insurance needed to allow us to put on the display in the mall. Thanks are extended to Jack, who was in Vancouver on business for the weekend. Club member Albert Meyer was minding the store for Jack in his absence, and thanks are also extended to him for his cooperation. As s special treat to the public, Dan had his computer hooked up and we had our Home Page on display for the public to view. Many interested members of the public visited the booth, and took away information on coin collecting and the club. One new member was sighed up and the possibility of one or 2 more look promising. Thanks again are extended to those manning the table and to Jack and the Mall for allowing us in on short notice.

NEW MEMBERS

The following application for membership in the Edmonton Numismatic Society has been received. Should there be no objection, he will become a member in good standing.

Barry Peabody Meadow Lake, Sask. #386

Barry was signed up at the Coin Week display at West Edmonton Mall. We had an interesting discussion with Barry, and he is keenly interested in the Internet and the numismatic information he can get there. Barry has a wide area of interests including Canadian decimal, paper and Ancients. Welcome to the Club Barry!

WORLDWIDE BI-METALIC COIN CLUB

This months feature article was supposed to be on WWII Remembered Numismatically, which was reprinted from the Regina Newsletter. This interesting and timely article will be printed in a future issue. An interesting schedule of events happened recently via the internet which I feel will be of interest to members. Enclosed in this issue is a series of conversations between Dan Gosling and members of a newly formed club called the Worldwide Bi-metalic Coin Club. This club contacted ours by searching the internet with the search word "bi-metalic". Dan had put James Kindrake's list on our Home Page and they found it and contacted us. Kind of shows you how small the world is really becoming. Enjoy!

1998 CNA MEDAL DESIGN CONTEST

Enclosed in this issue, is the information for club members to start thinking about designing a medal for the 1998 Convention. The rules and regulations are spelled out as well as a sample diagram to practice on. Members are encouraged to think of the Klondike theme of the convention and come up with some suggestions for a medal. Examples of the Clubs 1979 medal and more recent medals are provide for your information. Closing date for submissions is April 1, 1997.

DUES FOR 1997 BEING ACCEPTED

Subject: Snail Mail Address Sought

I have a friend (non-computer user) that is interested in contacting the Edmonton Numismatic Society. He lives in The Netherlands, therefore, if you would so kindly provide me your postal address I will forward it to him. You might want to put it in your Web page as well.

Thank you - Larry

Dear Larry

The mailing address is

Edmonton Numismatic Society

P.O. Box Ritchie P.O.

Edmonton, Alberta, Canada

T6E 6K1

I apologize for taking so long to reply. I have been helping my accountant configure some new computers and it has taken much longer then I thought it would.

We appreciate your passing on our address.

How did you learn about our web page? (ie. search provider or a link from another page?).

Yours truly

Dan

In response to your question, we found your web page via a search on the words "bi-metal". As it turns out, one section of your web site has a bi-metal coin list. In the last month about 12 individuals have joined together to form a world wide bi-metallic coin club. To date we have representation from 5 countries. In our quest to research the marketplace for these coins we ran across your site. This site is interesting and a good starting place for a novice, but represents probably only 60%-70% of the bi-metallic coins which have been produced over the last 10-15 years when you consider circulating and non-circulating coins from official and unofficial mints. Our club is still in the start-up stages and utilizes principally e-mail, but we are looking at creating a web site. Yours would be a very nice model to follow. Thank you for the address, I will pass it along to my friend. Should anyone be interested in our bi-metal club please give them my address.

Thank you - Larry

Dear Larry

While you are preparing your web page for your club would you like a reference or comment on the Bi-Metallic page at our site?

If you come up with a suggested wording I will present it to the Edmonton Numismatic Society for possible inclusion on the page. You could even include an email link for the convenience of interested parties.

Alternately, if you wish to send corrections and/or additions to the list of coins I will approach James Kindrake about modifying his text. If any one in your group has access to a scanner perhaps we could attach pictures to go with the descriptions.

A Canadian numismatist by the name of Jerry Remick has received the text (he is not online) and I am sure he would be interested in communicating with you. I can probably get his mailing address, if you would like to write to him.

Looking forward to your feedback

Dan

Dan,

Thank you for the kind offer. I will pass the information to our club president and the gentlemen who is working to create the site.

I have scanned in several photos of bi-metal coins and included them in a presentation to my local coin club here in LaHabra, California. If you let me know what kind of format you can use, e.g., gif, tif I will try sending you a couple of them. I am not very internet savy so I am not sure of the best process, but if you make a suggestion we can give it a go.

I have sent you a update for Mr. Kindrake. I had to send it in three messages since my service told me the one file was beyond its word capacity to send as a simple message. I hope they get there in somewhat readable form and I hope Mr. Kindrake finds them useful.

If Mr. Jerry Remick would like to send me a letter I would be happy to correspond with him and see if we have a mutual interest. My address is:

Larry Friemel

Subject: Kindrake Update (Part 1)

Please pass along the following bi-metal list to Mr. Kindrake. I think it will greatly enhance the one he has already. A few of my fellow members who are more exacting would say that even this list is incomplete, because I have not included the various combinations of uncirculated, proof and multiple mint marks and packaging techniques that may exist relative to each issue. I find it challenging enough to collect one of each major type, country and year without trying for all the various varieties and error coins which may be found. I have included a couple of listings with multiple mint marks and variations simply because I happened to be able to add them easily to my collection. Several of the "club" members are accumulating a very large number of bi-metal medals and tokens as well. I have included only 2 or 3 of those where I though they were significant in being test coins for actual production runs of circulating bi-metal coinage. If anyone is interested I know that a member of the United States TAMs club has published a US bi-metal token book which catalogs about 1400 pieces from the 1600s to the present. I could provide the publishers address if there is any interest.

Sincerely -- Larry

WBCC Newsmail number 10, 20 october 1996

This 10th number of the weekly Newsmailing to the member of the Worldwide Bi-metallic Collectors Club (WBCC) is getting to you and to the Rec.Collecting.Coins Newsgroup, with I hope nice (hot) news and interesting stuff about Bi-metallics with contribution of several members.

1. Hot Bi-metallic news.....By Frans Dubois, The Netherlands

Austria has made in the past a 500 (1995) and a 1000 (1994) Shilling Bi-metallic coin. Now there is a rumor that there is a 50 Shilling 1996 Bi-metallic circulation coin. No confirming yet.

2. More Hot Bi-metallic news.....By Larry Friemel, USA

Isle of man has this year 1996 made some nice, expensive Bi-metallics.

The 'Legend of King Arthur' is a five coin set which has been approved by Buckingham Palace and bears an effigy of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II on the obverse with a different reverse on each of the five coins. The reverse designs depict King Arthur, Queen Guinevere, Camelot Castle, Merlin the Wizard and Sir Lancelot. There are two Bi-metallic 5 coin set being offered by Pobjoy Mint Limited, Great Britain. The five coins in each of the two sets are as follows:

Set 1 -- Proof, 1/4-oz, Bi-metallic, 999.9 fine gold ring & 995.0 fine Platinum center, 22 mm diameter.

Set 2 -- Proof, 1/4-oz, Bi-metallic, 995.0 fine Platinum ring & 999.9 fine gold center, 22 mm diameter.

Each of the five coin sets is being offered at $ 1275 US from Pobjoy's Milwaukee, WI distributor or for 199 pounds, each directly from England.

3. Hot (Ecu/Euro) Bi-metallic news.....By Frans Dubois

Till now The Netherlands (Minthouse Muntpost B.V.) has made two 5 Ecus/Euros. One with the Dutch Queen Beatrix and one with the former French president Mitterand on it. Now I have the information from the director of the (Commercial) Minthouse 'Muntpost B.V.' their planning to make a serie of 12 of these 5 Ecus/Euros. The next one that will be issued shall have Spanish King Juan Carlos on it. One thing there must be said about these Ecus/Euros; They are not for circulation but they are actual commercial medals.

4. Coin versus Medal alignment.....By Martin Peeters, The Netherlands

Sometimes we make mistakes or we simply don't know. One of the nice things of this Worldwide Bi-metallic Collectors Club is that with useful information from the members we know ALL more about Bi-metallics and that is one of the goals of this unique club. Last week I wrote ONLY France had made Medal alignment Bi-metallic COINS. That's not true. The following countries have ALSO made Medal Alignment Bi-metallic COINS:

Canada, Cape Verde, China/Taiwan, Finland, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Israel, Kenia, New Zealand, Oman, Poland, Russia, Singapore and Syria

Do you have Bi-metallics for Exchange for the members of the WBCC?

7. Nickname 'Toony'.....By Frans Woons, Canada

How the toony (the Canadian 2 $ Bi-metallic coin) got its nickname. The story starts in 1987. In that year it has decided to replace the $ 1 bank notes by $ 1 coins as this is cheaper in the long run. A coin is more expensive to produce than a bank note but a coin lasts much, much longer. Originally it was decided to have on the reverse of the $ 1 coin the familiar scene of two man in a canoe first used for the silver dollar of 1935. It was also decided to make the coin 11-sided and yellow in colour. The round nickel dollars, struck since 1968 were rarely seen in circulation. The master dies for the new $ 1 coin were shipped, by courier, from Ottawa to the mint in Winnipeg but got lost (stolen?). Therefore it was decided to drop the design with the canoe (to prevent to production of fake coins?) and replace it by a design consisting mainly of a loon (scientific name: Gavia immer; known as "great northern diver" in the UK, "ijsduiker" in Dutch, "Eistaucher" in German, and "plongeon imbrin" in French), a popular bird seen on Canada's lakes and known for its haunting calls. Shortly after this coin was introduced, people started to call it "loony" (crazy) because of the image of the loon. In 1996 when the $ 2 Bi-metallic coin was introduced, some people suggest the nickname of "doubloony", a combination of "doubloon" and "loony". As most of you know probably, the doubloon is a famous Spanish golden coin with a face value of 2 Ducats. However, most people prefer the nickname of "toony" which is a contraction of "two" and "loony". If the master dies for the 1987 $ 1 coin were not lost, the 1996 $ 2 Bi-metallic coin would never have been called "Tooney"!

Age: 40

Profession: Dentist

Looking: Only for more coins and tokens for my collection

Against: Cruelty to animals and humans.

Goal: To retire from dentistry in about 15 years and start another career as a collectibles/antiques dealer.

9. Tri-metallics, correct name ??.....By Martin Peeters

When you look to the word Tri-metallic it should say there are three metals used in these kind of coins. But that's not always true. Tri is given to these coins because they are made with 2 rings and 1 center (or 1 ring and 2 centers). Till now there are 2 countries who have made Tri-metallic coins: France, 20 Francs in different years and with different types and Monaco, 20 Francs only in 1992.

10. Czech Republic, 50 Korun Bi-metallic.....By Martin Peeters The Czech Republic has made a 50 Korun Bi-metallic in 1993, 1994, 1995 and 1996. The last 3 years they are only available in a Mintset. The 50 Korun Bi-metallic is a special one. When you look to the metals, Ring Brass plated Steanless steel and Center Copper plated Steanless Steel, there is nothing special. When you look to the colors; Ring RED (Brass) and plug YELLOW (Copper) then there is no Bi-metallic in the World who has this combination of these two colors. The 50 Korun Bi-metallic is very difficult to obtain. I've got them directly from the Czech Republic for a (set)price of 15 US Dollars. The address is: (This reliable coindealer is on my 'white' list.)

11. Cape Verde, odd Bi-metallic ??.....By Martin Peeters

Cape Verde has made 3 Bi-metallic coins in 1994. These three 100 Escudos have different picture on the observe side: one with a ship, one with flowers and one with a bird. When you look to the metals, copper ring (red colored) and Nickel center (white colored) there is nothing odd. But when you look to it's shape: The ring is shaped at the outside with 10 angles. These Bi-metallic are the only ones with that shape.

12. WBCC....Helpdesk
